

- You may receive federal and state financial aid for a repeat of a previously-taken course provided you did not earn credit for the course (that is, if you received a grade of W, WA, F, FX). There is no limit on the number of times the course may be repeated if no credit was earned; however, all retakes are factored into attempted hours for purposes of determining Satisfactory Academic Progress.
- If you take a course again, for which you have previously earned academic credit (that is, an earned grade of “D” or better), you may receive a financial payment for the repeated course only one time.
- Federal regulations state you may not receive aid more than once for repeating a course previously passed, even if you are required to retake the course to fulfill degree requirements. For example, if you receive a “D” grade in a course and you are required by your college or department to repeat the course to achieve a grade greater than “D”, you may receive a financial aid payment for only one repeat of the course.

In practice, this means:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may receive aid when repeating a course that was previously failed, regardless of the number of times the course is repeated. All retakes are factored into attempted hours.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may receive aid to repeat a previously-passed course only one additional time.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The repeat rule applies whether or not you received aid for earlier enrollments in the course.

Notes s